Vibha is an associate with Bryan & Company LLP whose practice focuses primarily on employment and labour law, insurance defense, and general civil litigation. She works closely with individuals, businesses, insurers, and employers to provide practical, strategic, and timely advice tailored to their unique circumstances. Vibha is committed to helping clients navigate legal disputes efficiently and confidently, with a focus on clear and effective communication, practical solutions, and strong advocacy.

Vibha has represented clients before the Alberta Court of Justice and the Alberta Court of King's Bench and has experience assisting clients through all stages of the litigation process. She is an active member of the Canadian Bar Association and the South Asian Bar Association and regularly volunteers with Student Legal Services at the University of Alberta's Faculty of Law, as well as other community legal initiatives. Within the firm, Vibha serves on the Social Committee, helping organize charitable and team building events that bring colleagues together to support the broader community.

Outside of her practice, Vibha enjoys staying active, singing, baking a sweet treat (or two), and spending time with her husband, friends, and two mischievous cats
